CLIFFORD CHANCE SEMINARS AND BRIEFINGS

Clifford Chance Perspectives Series – Spring 2026 events programme

You are invited to attend Clifford Chance's Perspectives Series, beginning on Tuesday, 10 March. The majority of sessions will be held online, with select hybrid events hosted at our London office. We will explore a range of legal and business topics with contributions from distinguished guest speakers and speakers drawn from our international network, to include:

- Financial services trends 2026 – what's coming next? (Tuesday, 10 March online) – see below for further details
- Tech outlook 2026 – regulation, policy, cases and trends to watch in the year ahead (online)
- Building resilience, seizing opportunities – evolving sustainability and ESG risks (online)
- Geopolitics and the defence sector – navigating an era of strategic disruption (hybrid)
- Cross-border M&A: Investing in Europe – key considerations for US investors (online)
- Tougher regulation and more class action risks – what consumer goods and retail businesses need to know (online)

- Managing political risk in a volatile world (hybrid)
- Shaping the future of media – global perspectives on M&A and investment (online)
- Level up – key trends shaping the future of gaming and esports (online)
- GPU infrastructure – financing and contracting for AI compute (hybrid)
- How are trade tensions and concerns about supply chain resilience affecting FDI screening trends? (online)
- Sanctions – turning lessons from recent judgments, enforcement actions and policy shifts into practical action (hybrid)
- Who’s responsible when AI goes wrong? (online)
- The forces reshaping the global healthcare and life sciences sectors (online)
- Insurance capital – opportunities and challenges or powering private credit (hybrid)

Clifford Chance Webinar: Financial services trends 2026 – what's coming next?

The first webinar in the Spring Perspectives Series will be presented online by Simon Crown, Megan Gordon, Sunny Kapoor, Andrew Nelson, Lena Ng, Maren Stadler-Tjan and Monika Zdzieborska on Tuesday, 10 March at 9am EDT / 1pm GMT / 2pm CET / 9pm HKT.

As financial institutions face another year of regulatory, technological and geopolitical change, our panel will explore three board-level priorities. Are organisations fully prepared for cyber threats and how do they respond to cross-border incidents? How is AI being implemented and what are the emerging legal and operational risks? And how do firms navigate political divergence, shifting regulation and growing litigation around ESG issues?
